

Claims

1. Show cabinet for displaying objects, having several side panels, a base and an upper part that forms the top, at least one side panel being made in the form of a glass door, the outer side of which closes flush in the area of the outside edge of a side panel at the right- or left-hand side when the cabinet is in the closed state and the interior of the cabinet is sealed off from its surroundings in an airtight and dust-tight manner, appropriate flexible sealing strips being affixed in the door's area of movement, characterised in that the door (3) is mounted, by means of a guiding means affixed in the top (1) or the base (2) or in both the top (1) and the base (2), in such a way that it can be moved sideways in a parallel manner in order to completely clear the door opening, whereby to open the door the relevant side panel (5, 6) can be pushed back by suitable means, or the door (3) can be moved forward by suitable means, to such an extent that the inner face (8) of the door (3) is able to pass the front edge (7) of the side panel (5, 6).
2. Show cabinet as in claim 1, characterised in that the side wall (5, 6) is mounted, in such a way that it can be moved, by means of a single extension affixed in the top (1) or in the top (1) and the base (2).
3. Show cabinet as in claim 1, characterised in that the double extension of the door (3) is permanently fixed, firstly to the door (3) and secondly by means of a parallel guiding device to the cabinet.
4. Show cabinet as in one of claims 1 to 3, characterised in that the sealing strip is affixed to the cabinet in the area of the side wall (5, 6) and, when the door (3) is closed, lies up against the inner face (8) of the latter.
5. Show cabinet as in one of claims 1 to 3, characterised in that the sealing strip is affixed to the side wall (5, 6) in the area of the door (3) and, when the door (3) is closed, lies up against the front edge (10) of the door.

6. Show cabinet as in one of claims 1 to 5, characterised in that the door (3) can be moved to both sides.
